

DIRECTORS ELECT FIRST TREASURER OF LIBRARY BOARD

Mrs. Edmund Vos, Williams and Zimmerman to Serve as Officers

For the first time since its establishment, the library board of directors has a treasurer to handle the funds following the election of Dr. L. John Zimmerman to that office recently. The new treasurer will serve with Mrs. Edmund Vos, president, and Dr. R. D. Williams, secretary, also recently elected to serve this year.

The office of secretary was created, according to the board, in compliance with a law passed by the last legislature requiring all such municipal bodies to elect a fiscal officer in whose custody the funds may be placed.

Appointment of committees and determination of policies in regard to the library, are the considerations which have come before the board at the two semi-annual meetings held recently. G. A. Whitmore is retiring president of the board, who has been succeeded by Mrs. Vos.

A decision was reached at the meetings to ask the village trustees for an appropriation again of $100 this year toward the annual expenses of the library. It was pointed out that the balance on hand of $635 with the appropriation would be more than adequate for expenses. Around $540 was expended by the board for the library in the past year, and $100 was appropriated by the trustees. It was voted to retain the services of Miss Mary Stanley as librarian.

Committees appointed are as follows: Finance, Mrs. Vos, Dr. Williams and Dr. Zimmerman; books, Dr. Zimmerman, Mrs. Mapletorpe, and Mrs. Rigby; grounds, Dr. Zimmerman, Mr. Whitmore, and Dr. Williams.

According to action taken at these meetings, the subscription to the Library Guild books for adults will not be renewed when the contract expires in December. It was the opinion of the board that the books sent by the Guild have been unsuitable for the library in a number of cases. The contract for junior books will be renewed, announcement has been made.

Revision of the by-laws, necessitated by the creation of the office of treasurer, was completed at the last of the board meetings. Work of cataloging a number of books, which have been received as gifts, is now going on in the library. Members of the board are Mrs. Vos, Dr. Williams, Dr. Zimmerman, Mr. Whitmore, Mrs. Mapletorpe, and Mrs. Rigby.

Mongoven Released by Chicago Police

Bluff Lake Summer Resident Was Shopping for Slot-Machines

A city shopping trip to buy some slot machines for a summer resort at Bluff Lake, led to the arrest of Leo Mongoven, former racket king and a this week from which he was released Wednesday.

Mongoven was loitering along a Chicago boulevard when police picked him up and inquired into his activities in the city. He assured them that his sole purpose was the purchase of slot machines for his business near Antioch, but that he is not engaged in any "racket" in either Cook or Lake County, which left the officers wondering where the slot machine business should be established.

He was held for questioning regarding the kidnap threats which have been received by several Chicago and North Shore residents. His arrest started a now rumor that Mongoven with Moran and some Waukegan "business man" have formed a new slot-machine syndicate.

1933 LEVY ORDINANCE TO BE VOTED TO-NIGHT WILL SHOW SAVINGS

Appropriation for Bond Payment Will Buy Up Last of Issue

An actual saving of $934 in the 1933 expenditures for the costs of village government, as compared with the amount raised for expenses this past year, is shown in the recommendations made by the finance committee to the trustees in regard to the tax levying ordinance which is to be passed to-night.

At the same time, a saving of around $1,400 is foreseen for next year's budget since the sum raised in this year's taxation will pay up the last of the $20,000 bond issue floated in 1924 to meet past indebtedness.

Largest Saving
In the bond and interest fund, a saving of $84 is shown over last year's figures. Further savings are recommended in the salary, printing, water maintenance, and the repair of public buildings fund which is to be slashed $350 this next year as compared with last year's expenditures. Last year's levy for this purpose was $600 while the sum is set at $150 this year. Last year's larger appropriation was due to the purchase of a furnace for the village hall.

Water Fund Omitted
The salary fund, according to the recommendations, shows the next largest saving, being reduced from $2,300 last year to $2,000 this year. The fund established for the maintenance of this public water works has been abolished this year at the suggestion of Village Attorney Eugene Runyard, who points out that the water department has proven self-sustaining. The appropriation for this purpose last year was $100.

Adoption of the tax levying ordinance which must be filed with the county clerk by August 1 for the spread of the taxes among village property owners, was to have been acted upon at the meeting called last Monday night, but due to the absence of three of the trustees, no action was taken, and the meeting was postponed until to-night.

The bond series for which the last levy will be made this year, was issued in 1924, to raise $9,000 to satisfy judgments against the village held by the Public Service Company, Low H. Fetter and John Dupre. One of the bonds will be paid this fall, and the last in November, 1934.

Legislature's Laws Being Tested; Beer Law Said Unconstitutional

Springfield, July 27, 1933.—A special session of the legislature is being called by the decision of County Judge Liddell of Winnebago in declaring the Horner control beer law unconstitutional. This decision allows the general sale of beer, but bars regulation or the collection of beer taxes by the state.

The administration is dodging a test of the Kerner-Skarda law giving county collectors the right to take into receivership any property which is six months in arrears in the payment of taxes. Attorneys for Collector McDonough in Cook county have withdrawn a dozen actions of this kind when confronted by owners who were ready to take appeals.

The insurance moratorium law "to regulate insurance companies," but which only regulated policy holders out of their rights to collect surrender values or get policy loans, is also floundering. Wherever suit has been even threatened by a policy holder the companies pay off, rather than face a test.

There will be plenty of tests of the sales tax law when the state tries to make its first collections on August 16. Sen. James O. Monroe, Democrat of Collinsville, announces that he will be one of the first to refuse to pay, hoping to make a test.

After the first returns have been filed, the sales tax law provides that licenses shall be issued to retailers. Blanks on which the information may be filled out may be obtained, according to the announcement, from county clerks, and chambers of commerce.

BOARD CUTS LEVY OF HIGH SCHOOL $8,000 FOR '33

Estimated to Bring Tax Rate to 90 Cents per $100

Expenses of the Antioch Township high school for the year 1933 were cut $8,000 in the levy, which the school board will file with the Lake county clerk before August 1. An estimated reduction in the tax rate of 28 cents on the $100 valuation will result from this cut on the basis of last year's assessment, according to L. O. Bright, principal of the school.

The slash in expenses was made by cutting salaries and expenses all along the line, according to board members. The reduction of this year, added to that of last year, makes a total reduction of $20,000 in money appropriated for the township high school expenses.

A balance left at the end of this year was another factor which made the economy measure possible. The tax rate for the high school, fixed at $1.32 per $100 in 1931, was $1.18 in 1932 and according to the estimate will be 90 cents for this year.

Two members were taken from the teaching staff at the high school in the economy program of last year. The enrollment this past year increased by 40 students, and an increase of 30 is expected in this year's enrollment.

No definite arrangements to fill the vacancy left by Gerald Reed, high school athletic director, have been made by the board, although applications are being considered. School will open Sept. 5.

Members of the grade school board will meet this week to fix the levy for this school district, according to Arthur Hawkins, secretary of the board.

THE FIREMEN'S DEMONSTRATION

No knowledge has greater potentiality of being invaluable if called into use, nor is more simply acquired, than of the method of stimulating artificial respiration. Last Tuesday night's demonstration, sponsored by the Fire Department, adequately illustrated the fact that anyone, man, woman or child, can perform this life-saving exercise with little previous practice.

In any community where asphyxiation, or drowning are ever present possibilities, no one can be sure that he will not some day be called upon to practice life-saving. The simple Schaefer method of restoring breathing, may someday save a life. Those who watched the demonstration this week, saw an interesting exhibit given by trained members of the fire department and Public Service Company representatives, and learned the simple principles of artificial respiration, which someday may be invaluable.

TAX PARADOX

Tax reduction, our state and national governing officials have repeatedly stated, must begin at home, where the largest portion of the taxpayer's dollar is annually spent. And despite the orgies of wasteful expenditures of which our state officials have frequently been guilty, there has been obvious truth in the declaration.

The village, the most highly localized of all our taxing units, in the recently published budget and proposed levy of expenditures which will serve for a basis on which the taxes are spread for this section, has cut expenditures this year, as compared with last, around $900, which in itself is commendable. Material reductions in the school levies have also been made.

But the appalling outlook of the present tax system is one of mounting delinquency, and an increasing tax rate despite lowered expenditures, for the man who pays, pays for the man who does not. This in itself has created a tax paradox, which cannot be solved, until taxes have been reduced to the point where they will not be allowed to go delinquent, nor when lowering valuations force the rate up.

Through the last few years, the tax problem, previously an issue only dragged out on the eve of political campaigns, has become a sore spot with the American public. To some extent, opinion has checked the mounting rate of taxation which increased in two years, from 1929 to 1931, on an average of ten per cent throughout the country.

Necessarily, with taxes mounting despite lowered expenditures by governing officials, there is bound to be a loud hue and cry for slashes in government costs, which is the only weapon which can bring about a lowered tax rate for the people, in just ration with their incomes.

But although the cry cannot be too loud, nor too persistent, it can become too blind with frenzy to bring the best results. The taxpayer deserves to reap a sound investment from every dollar he turns over to the government. Reductions in government costs must be watched constantly, for reductions made by "borrowing from Peter to pay Paul" are a loss and not a gain. Certain departments and functions of government are well worth the cost to the taxpayer. Few of us, for example, would willingly take on the care of the street in front of our homes, rather than pay that portion of the tax which is exacted for this purpose. But there are other services of the government which we would willingly sacrifice for a saving.

Sane management of public affairs, requires a careful and continual check on the part of all intelligent citizens. Keeping up the hue and cry is not enough. It must be a knowing hue and cry, directed against the weak spot in our government finances.

THE NEW AGRICULTURAL ERA

It would be an interesting thing if a farmer of thirty years ago could be suddenly transported to the Chicago World's Fair and shown the model exhibit of electricity at work in agriculture.

As the saying goes his eyes would pop out. He would see chickens treated with ultra violet rays, and their hours of rest and work controlled by light. Cows in a scientifically built lactary are automatically washed and then milked by sanitary, efficient electric equipment. Electric cooling and bottling equipment has superseded old hand methods. There are no hay lofts in the modern barn—instead, a large new type silo, a silo within a silo stores both ensilage and dry feed and reduces fire hazards. Two small structures store grain which is transported by electric conveyor systems.

In the fields of this farm, he would see still more startling things. Even the tractor, thought up-to-date a short time ago, has been dispensed with, its place taken by an electric cable plough which makes its way about the field carrying its own self-winding cable. There are no power poles to interfere with work or mar the farm's appearance—all the distributional lines are underground.

As a matter of fact the farmer of thirty years ago wouldn't be the only one to stare with unbelieving eyes at the exhibit. Today's average farm is still wasteful and inefficient, exacting a maximum of hard labor for a minimum of result. The exhibit at the world's fair shows what the farm of the future will be like in a really "new agricultural era."

THE SMALL TOWN AND RECOVERY

President Roosevelt in his stirring speech Monday night, called upon the "little fellows" as well as the "big fellows," to help him put over this immense program of recovery which he has planned to avert another winter like last. Most of us in the small town are the "little fellows," those who may be most tempted to believe that our small part in this national movement will make no appreciable difference in bringing the country out of its present straits.

Individually, no. One small town merchant, or even six, will never materially affect the prosperity and welfare of an entire nation. But, collectively, yes, for the small town merchant exists not in dozens, nor scores, nor hundreds in this country, but in thousands after thousands, in towns which dot the Atlantic coast, which rest close in to the Alleghenies, which nestle in fertile rolling hills and on the flat, endless stretches of prairie, and are found even farther in the arid western lands, until another coast is met.

To these individual business men, as much as to the tycoons of industry, Roosevelt directed his plea for co-operation in his startling program which is revolutionary in the industrial and commercial control it places in our Federal government. But we have come to the point where revolutionary methods are needed, unless we are to continue our progress downhill.

Enthusiastic and wholehearted support of this recovery program is a more sincere indication of patriotism than were the national programs of fifteen years ago during the war. And after all, it is well to remember, that a drowning man will grasp a straw.

IN ANSWER TO A LADY'S LETTER

A lady writes to say that she does not understand why an 8-cylinder car does not cost more to run than a car with fewer cylinders. She refers to my statement that our Ford V-8 develops more power on a gallon of gas than any car we have made.

The use of 8-cylinders does not mean the addition of two or four extra fuel consumers. It is not, for example, a 4-cylinder engine multiplied by two. Our 8-cylinder engine takes the fuel supply of an ordinary 4-cylinder engine and divides it eight ways. And why?

By reducing four larger explosions into eight smaller ones, we get engine smoothness and quietness. Eight-cylinders indicate the way the gas is used, not the amount. It is just the difference between going upstairs in four long jumps or in eight ordinary steps.

Two things use up gas—bad engine design and useless car weight. Besides having an engine that gets a high percentage of power out of the fuel, the Ford V-8 has a light, strong body and chassis so that no power is wasted in moving excess weight.

The only extravagance about the new Ford V-8 engine is in the building of it. The extravagance is ours—the economy is yours.

The whole question of car economy needs clearing up. An economical car gives economy all round. Price, operation, upkeep, all play their part. If what you save on gas you lose elsewhere, that is not economy.

As to upkeep, our dealers say that in recent years the improved quality of Ford cars has out down their repair business 50 per cent.

As to price with quality,—judge for yourself. As to economy, here is the record of a stock car three weeks out of shop in Oklahoma:

On a run of 10,054 miles at the rate of 1,000 miles a day—the Ford V-8 gave 18.8 miles per gallon of gas. Not a drop of water was added to the radiator. The oil was changed once in 1,000 miles.

That should answer a lot of questions.

She yields to an elderly Senator, in love with her, because of her gratitude for the assistance he gives her poverty stricken family. But he is killed in an accident before they can be married, and their child is born.

Starting her life anew, she is swept off her feet by the brother of her wealthy employer, and for years they enjoy their happiness until he learns of her child. His reaction is startling, and its effects on Jennie tragical.

Lake Villa Families Have Reunion at Galiger Home Sunday

Camp Open House Attend- ed by Many; Monaville School Remodeled

The Galiger and McCann families enjoyed a family reunion at the E. J. Galiger home last Sunday and nearly two hundred were present. The tables were spread in the grove and the dinner was nearly ready when the sudden wind and rain storm came and nearly spoiled everything. The group took refuge in the house and in cars, and after the storm had passed was able to continue the festivities. Each family contributed to the dinner, and guests were present from Gurnee, Kenosha, Waukegan and Chicago, besides those living in this vicinity.

Camp Hyde Park Y. M. C. A. on Hastings Lake held open night for friends of the Camp on Friday evening and a number from Lake Villa attended. They had a camp-fire with songs, stunts, dances and plenty of fun. Chief Whirling Thunder, a full blooded Winnebago Indian, was guest of the Camp for the day and presented a war dance in full Indian regalia at the camp-fire. The Camp is doing good work under the direction of W. G. Maltby and is glad to welcome friends.

The Monaville School is being remodeled and improved by addition of a basement which will allow the installation of a furnace, and other improvements are being made. Albert Kapple and Irving Barnstable are doing the work.

Frank Sherwood entertained friends from Canistota, S. D., last Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Belle Richards of Antioch spent last Thursday with Mrs. S. M. Sherwood, whose condition remains much the same.

James Kerr has moved his plumbing shop to the one at his home across the railroad tracks.

The Ladies' Aid Society is holding its annual summer sale at their room below the cafe on Friday afternoon and evening and also Saturday, and on Wednesday afternoon next week they will hold their regular meeting and hear the reports. All are very welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. George Mitchell and Helen Anne spent Saturday and Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Kerr.

Miss Mary Kerr visited relatives in Evanston last week on Tuesday.

Mrs. C. J. Hewitt and Clare visited relatives in Elgin last Thursday, returning the same day. Rev. Hewitt, who spent the past two weeks in Brookings, S. D., returned home Saturday night and reported that the weather had been exceedingly hot at Brookings.

Mrs. M. H. Gindich and Kathleen are spending the week with relatives in Chicago.

The play, "How the Story Grew," presented by members of the Ladies' Aid, was very well received when it was presented at the school-house last Friday evening, and ice-cream and cake sold well. The ladies feel grateful to all who helped to make it a success.

Mrs. Joe Petru, Miss Libbie Petru and Miss Mayme Petru of Chicago spent Sunday with their cousin, Mrs. Fred Hamlin.

Mrs. H. J. Nelson who has spent the last month visiting her mother and sisters in St. Louis, returned home last Friday and her sister, Mrs. Walter Hessler, returned with her for a few days' visit.

Mrs. James Atwell attended the funeral of a relative, Mrs. Savage, at Waukegan on Wednesday.

Bojan Hamlin left Monday to go to a girls' camp in northern Wisconsin to be gone two weeks. She attended the same camp, which is near the Michigan line, last year.

Mari-Anne's Special Clearance Friday and Saturday only—wash, frocks $8c; Full Fashioned Hosiery, 69c pair.

A Good Job
Joe Dubrovnik went to work for a logging company. He worked for five days and two hours. Then he decided to call for his time. The timekeeper's sheet showed he had bucked 67,010 feet of timber. At the stipulated rate of 11 cents per thousand feet this gave him $7.37. But during his stay Joe had boarded with the company and there were several other items charged to him.

His food bill was $6, his bed $1, there was a hospital bill of $1 and 15 cents for first aid, making a total of $8.15. Thus at the end of better than five days hard work Joe owed the company 78 cents.

But don't think Joe paid them that 78 cents. He left the camp thinking how lucky he was he quit when he did.

Four-Legged Chicken

The great majority of people prefer the leg of a chicken. Now a chicken with four legs has been hatched at Huntington, Ind. Here is a genuine effort to meet the needs of the chicken eating public—which includes nearly everybody.

If this breed of four-legged chickens can be adopted generally it will go far toward solving the problem of making one chicken "go around" when company comes.

Ministers of the gospel are usually very fond of chicken "drumsticks" and it will be possible to invite the minister to Sunday dinner and have him catered to in a suitable way if the chicken can be converted into a quadruped.

This is a picture of what used to be the coal bin in the C. home since they put in clean automatic gas heat. The youngsters play here on rainy days and the grown-ups on Saturday nights. And Mrs. C's house is now always spic and span as a result.

Poor Jon! He still thinks he's saving money spending his spare time shoveling fuel and cleaning out ashes. Too bad he doesn't know he could have gas heat for a few cents a day more and be rid of shoveling and the nuisance of ashes forever.

This is a picture of a woman taking care of the furnace in a gas-heated home. She used to shovel—shake the furnace—clean out ashes—on occasion split kindling and build a fire. Now she sits the thermostat—gas heat does all the rest.

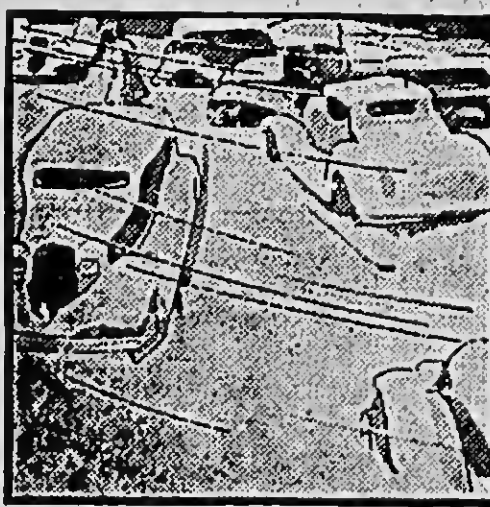

Mrs. B. used to worry every minute she was out of the house about the fire going out or getting too hot. Since they put in gas heat—the story, out all day if she wants to and never give it a thought. Gas heat automatically regulates itself—day and night.

1 A. M. surprise in the suburbs. Mr. and Mrs. D. worried all evening about the fire going out. Now Mr. D. will change his clothes and build a fire and Mrs. D. will rush upstairs to put extra blankets over the children. And some day soon the D's will have gas heat—and an end to this nuisance.

The fire went out at 10 below and doctor says that Mary T. will have to stay in bed for a week. And Mrs. T. will be down cellar every half hour watching and shoveling. "Figure up the cost, Mr. T.—and you'll put in gas heat—that never goes out."

The H's fuel tank would be empty just during a blizzard like this, and it looks as if the H's will have to freeze for a while or move to a friend's home. And when the snow is gone, and Mr. H. finds another big rut across his lawn where a fuel delivery truck ran over his grass—there'll be another gas-heated home.

NEW...Low Cost Home-heating with Gas

Installed in your home at our expense . . .
removed at our expense if you don't like it!

No other fuel ever made such an offer!

YOU INVEST NOTHING!

Without one cent of investment by you, we install the most modern gas burner in your furnace or boiler. If you are satisfied it stays. If not—and you are the sole judge.—out it comes and your former heating method is re-installed—AT OUR EXPENSE. No other fuel for home heating dares make such an offer.

WITH the price of gas heat reduced one-half the rate of 1930-31, gas for home heating comes into its own. Today—with the new low gas-heating rates, gas, the luxury heat, is priced for the majority.

Gas does all the work

The advantages of gas heating have long been recognized. A single match represents your kindling pile . . . days and nights of back-breaking coal shoveling . . . dirty hours of hauling ashes . . . weeks of seasonal housecleaning

. . . the wear and tear and expense of reconditioning your home and its furnishings.

Your present fuel must be turned into gas before it will burn. To do this you are dependent upon a motor, or some manual operation to make gas—in your own home. This is added expense, labor and waste. With gas, whenever you want the house warmer or cooler—just set the thermostat.

Tell us you want to install gas heat. We will install the equipment in four year you pay $3 a month rental in the average house. This rental charge will be sent along with your bill for the gas you use. If you order it out the rental stops immediately.

A daring offer. Certainly. Because gas has the qualities that set it above all other fuels. Let the small gas pipe running into your furnace—help keep your home, your yard and your entire neighborhood clean and healthful. Yes—there's a "new deal" in house heating.

Hints

Delay Is Fault in Homemaking Which May
Steal Away Precious Hours of Leisure

Performing Tasks on Time
Places Home on Plane
With Business

Methods in cooking vary from one household to another as widely as do the personalities in these households. What one woman may find an easy method, to another may seem the longest way around. Sometimes we have found the methods most adaptable to our peculiar abilities, but often old methods have become a habit.

The saying, so often credited to daughters who have tried learning cooking in their mother's kitchen, "There's a wrong way and Mother's way," is ironically apt. There can be no one right way in housekeeping any more than in business management or any of the professions.

The ten commandments which would keep the tedium and toll in housekeeping to a minimum, should start with "Thou shalt not let dishes, dusting, washing, ironing, or any of the other duties, accumulate." For it's the stacked dishes, the pieces of ironing left over from last week, the postponed dusting, which is most burdensome.

Lightening Drudgery

Keeping a daily routine of tasks, and performing them on their specified day, will take much of the drudgery out of housework, as many a housewife will say. When evenly divided over the week, the work of keeping a house clean and neat, of feeding a family and keeping the members in clothes, still remains a job requiring capable management, and yet becomes less drab and dreary.

Baking can become an unnecessarily tedious task when dishes are allowed to accumulate from the various processes of mixing and stirring. One cook will bake cakes and pies with free abandon, letting dishes pile high until her kitchen has become filled with mixing dishes, mixing spoons, baking tins, egg beaters, bowls, cups and all the necessary equipment for doing the family baking.

Another cook washes her dishes as she goes, leaving a clean path behind, and a kitchen which needs no settling straight when the act of the baking comes from the oven.

Delay

One housewife will let the dust collect for a matter of weeks, putting off until tomorrow, the task which is dragged today. Half the drudgery of housework, comes from the habit of delay, waiting until tomorrow or the next day to perform a task which daily becomes more unpleasant. Setting a task for each day, never delaying the performance of these tasks unless the delay is unavoidable, will put housework on a plane with business in method and efficiency.

Time is more valuable to no one than the housewife. As much as anyone else she enjoys leisure, the time in which to sit and enjoy the fruit of her efforts. Unless she manages that leisure in the middle of the day, she has very little. For unlike the rest of the family, her work does not end at six o'clock.

Dinner must be placed on the table, after dinner there are dishes to be done, and after dishes, often there are children to be put to bed, sometimes clothes to be sprinkled, or the lawn needs her attention.

Every woman owes herself a few hours of leisure in each day, hours in which she can read, play bridge, sit in her garden, or play with her children. "Thou shalt not let thy duties accumulate" is a commandment, which if obeyed, will aid in the search for those extra hours in each day.

Gelatine Ring Makes
Decorative Desserts
and Salads for Table

Gelatine ring salads and desserts are decorative delicacies for the summer table which requires little time for preparation. The vegetable salad ring may be made of lemon or lime flavored gelatine to which peas, chopped raw carrots, tomato slices, celery, chopped cabbage, and any number of other vegetables have been added.

Pears and Cheese

With the same flavoring, a delicious salad may be made by adding pears, and placing in the center of the ring, when it has been removed from the mold, a mound of cottage cheese. Peaches may be substituted for the pears, or pineapple, and prunes may be added to the other fruit.

For a dessert, a number of fruit combinations in the ring will appeal to summer appetites. A bright color gelatine makes an attractive dish on the table. To whatever flavoring of gelatine is chosen, add peaches, bananas, and any variety of canned fruit.

To Remove Ring

The mold for these rings may be bought wherever kitchen utensils are sold. The gelatine should be allowed to cool before the fruit or vegetables are added. When it has hardened, the ring may be removed by placing the mold, face down, on the platter or serving dish and warming the entire surface of the mold with a warm, damp cloth. If the gelatine is not loosened the first time, the cloth should be wiped over the surface again.

A large glass plate or a silver or pewter platter makes the most attractive dish for serving the ring.

A bed of lettuce leaves should be arranged on the plate before the ring is removed. In the center of the ring, a bowl with whipped cream or mayonnaise or cottage cheese may be placed.

The ring is easily served with a large cake knife and a large berry spoon. It is most attractive at the Sunday night supper or buffet party.

Quick Tricks

Whether in bridge or in housekeeping, it's the quick tricks you hold in your hand, which tell the story. Efficiency, which has no reserve of short cuts to be called into use on the emergency occasion or as a general time saver, is not worth the name.

Pasteboard coasters, resembling anything but mere paper, are an appropriate and saving addition to the housewife's store of supplies, for they come in handily at odd moments, when the children are having lemonade, at the after-show pick up lunch when there is beer, at porch parties and at evening bridge when a cool drink is served. The mats save the finishes of your tables, and at the same time are decorative. They are sold for a few cents a dozen at stores where picnic supplies and similar merchandise is carried.

A new electric contrivance, priced at one dollar, will be a boon to those of us who wait until that last minute to wash our favorite hose, for it is a small dryer, expressly designed for drying gloves and hose and small pieces of underwear.

Fruit juices bottled with sugar to a syrup, which is ready to be diluted with water for a cold drink, is always a welcome last resort when unexpected callers drop in. Keep the syrup in a sealed jar in the ice box.

In disputes among hose shades for a number of seasons, sun-tan and flesh tones taking its place.

Faded Pasty Sachet

Clothes kept in closed dresser drawers sometimes absorb unpleasant odors. That's why practical women keep sachets of various scents in among their dainties. If you want your clothes to have fragrant odors save your favorite flowers, especially roses, when they become faded, and crumble them up in the drawer with your dresses, lingerie and whatnots. Then when you take them out to wear you'll be surprised at their sweetness—gained at no cost.

Looks now as if prices were going to be running in "high" all the time, up hill and down, from now on.

Resort Lakes' Beaches Popular for Most Healthful Sport---Swimming

With thousands of persons figuring that a real vacation must be accompanied by a full quota of swimming and other water activities, the bathing beach is at present one of the most popular attractions in this resort area.

Young people, especially, are enthusiastic about swimming and it is their liking for the sport that has caused the development of a large number of good beaches in this locality.

At anytime during the summer one may visit these places and see a full quota of persons of all ages bathing, swimming, diving, or just enjoying the beaches.

HEALTHFUL SPORT

Hundreds of persons, especially during the last few years, have come to realize that swimming is one of the most healthful of sports, because it gets people out of doors and makes them exercise a great number of muscles while exposing them to the sun and fresh air.

Much has been done in water education in this vicinity and more persons are learning to become better swimmers and learning to dive and to take care of other persons in the water as well as themselves.

At most of the beaches there are bath houses and locker accommodations available at free or small costs.

Besides the necessary bathing suits there are many other swimming accessories available, such as bathing caps, shoes, gowns, towels, blankets, beach balls, and water wings.

It would take an average person counting in an average way between 60 and 70 years to count to a billion.

Frosty Drinks for Torrid Days

By Jane Rogers

THESE are the days when the children trooping in from play and guests dropping in to call will equally enjoy one of the many frosty fruit beverages which are so easily prepared to the home. Remember that in addition to the refreshment they afford, there are sound dietetic reasons for their popularity. The sugar provides new energy to replace that sapped by the heat. The fruit juices are chock-full of essential vitamins.

Try the recipes below and see what an eager welcome greets the clinking glasses.

Lime and Lemon Ade

To two quarts of charged water, add the juice of ten lemons and four times. Stir in one pound of sugar and dissolve thoroughly. Add ice to chill. In each glass put a slice of lemon and several ice cubes. Fill glasses with the beverage and serve.

Ambrosia Punch

Mix together one quart grape juice, juice of three oranges, juice of three lemons, one-half teaspoon ground cinnamon, one cup sugar. Stir until the sugar is thoroughly dissolved. Add one quart ginger ale

STEEL ALONE IS NOT ENOUGH!

— neither strong enough,
nor safe enough, nor quiet enough for the body of a quality car
like CHEVROLET

There is only one type of body construction which Chevrolet will permit on the chassis of the cars it builds: That's the type which every test—and every experiment—and every experience has proved to be the safest, strongest, and best. Not steel alone, because steel alone is not enough. But a Fisher body of steel reinforced by hardwood! The same kind of construction used on practically all the highest-priced cars in America.

Chevrolet well knows that steel alone has one distinct advantage: it's cheaper. Steel also is strong—up to a certain point. BUT—beyond that point, steel alone will bend and crumple under severe stress or shock. It takes the strength and supporting solidity of a hardwood reinforcement to give you the full protection and full satisfaction you want in a motor car body today.

If you're thinking of buying a new low-priced car, better watch this matter of bodies, and watch it carefully. Insist on steel reinforced by hardwood! Fortunately, the only low-priced car with this preferred type of body is also the only car with a proven valve-in-head six; with Fisher Ventilation; Cushion-Balanced Power; a Starterator. That car is Chevrolet—America's most economical automobile.
